Listen to the passage twice then answer the questions:

1) Why does the speaker talk about two sets of countries?

2) How many countries are mentioned in the first set?

3) Identify 3 of the countries from the second set.

Prepared by Professor Nader Morkus
University of Texas, Austin